

Seal Swimming Safety Guide – Plettenberg Bay

Rabies Awareness & Guest Safety

Welcome!

We're excited to share this incredible marine experience with you. Your safety and the wellbeing of our wildlife are our top priorities, and this quick guide will help ensure a safe, fun, and responsible adventure.

Wildlife Awareness

Seals are wild animals, and while rabies in marine mammals is extremely rare, we remain cautious at all times.

Please be aware of unusual behaviour such as:

- Aggression or erratic movement
- Disorientation or weakness
- Unresponsiveness

Our guides are trained to monitor this and will handle any concerns appropriately.

No Touch Policy

For your safety and the protection of the seals:

- Do not touch or attempt to interact physically with seals
 - Always follow your guide's instructions in the water

In the Unlikely Event of Contact

If you are bitten or scratched:

1. Wash the area immediately with soap and water
2. Inform your guide straight away
3. Seek medical attention as soon as possible

We will assist with all necessary next steps.

Medical Support

For your peace of mind, we have doctors on standby who can assist with any necessary treatment, including rabies vaccinations if required.

Most medical expenses can be claimed through your travel insurance, depending on your provider.

Your Safety Matters

- Our staff are fully trained in safety and emergency procedures
- Team members are vaccinated as a precaution
- Emergency plans and medical contacts are always in place

Responsible Ocean Experiences

We work closely with conservation authorities to protect marine life. By respecting wildlife and following guidelines, you help preserve this special environment.
