

PURE TREK CANYONING

Liability Release Form

I accept and understand that hiking, rappelling from ropes secured by anchors, and hiking in streams exposes me to many hazards. Some of the dangers and risks that may be present or include, but are not limited to the following:

- The physical exertion associated with hiking, hiking in streams, and rappelling and the potential injuries associated with such exertion and activities.
- Hiking or walking on rugged terrain including slippery rocks, mud or steep trails.
- Rappelling down canyon walls using ropes, harnesses and all specific gear needed to perform this activity.
- Water hazard including boulders, waterfalls, fallen trees and other water obstructions.
- Injuries inflicted by animals, insects or plants. Accidents or illness in remote places without medical facilities.
- Travel in a vehicle not driven by me, including over tough and unpredictable terrain.

I acknowledge that the above risks are inherent to the activity of rappelling, hiking in streams and hiking in a remote jungle environment. And that the enjoyment and excitement of these activities derives in part from taking such risks.

I agree to obey all tour rules and the guidelines set by Pure Trek Canyoning.
