Key Highlights

Lewa Wildlife Conservancy

A world-renowned wildlife conservancy and an official UNESCO World Heritage Site, Lewa stands as a global leader in community-based conservation. The sanctuary provides a secure haven for endangered species while driving impactful community development and educational initiatives across the region.

Exceptional Game Viewing

Lewa is home to over 10% of Kenya's black rhinos and 15% of its white rhinos, alongside the world's largest single population of the critically endangered Grevy's zebra. The conservancy offers unparalleled game viewing, including frequent encounters with the iconic Big Five.

Re-crafted with quiet intention

The camp's recent refurbishment enhances guest comfort while thoughtfully preserving its authentic safari character. Elegant interiors are inspired by the warm colours, natural textures, and timeless spirit of the surrounding plains.

Low-Density Tourism Model

Strictly controlled vehicle access throughout the conservancy ensures a low-density, highly exclusive safari experience. This careful management eliminates crowding at wildlife sightings, providing a pristine and unhurried wilderness environment.

Classic Safari Sophistication

The tents at Lewa Safari Camp are a masterful blend of traditional canvas charm and modern luxury, set on raised concrete bases finished with elegant Herringbone Mazeras stone beneath the shade of ancient trees. Designed to offer an immersive connection to the landscape, each spacious tent features thatched roofs and private verandahs that invite the sights and sounds of the wild. It is a refined sanctuary where the adventurous spirit of the plains meets the quiet comfort of a classic safari home.

- 11 Safari Tents (27m²): Spacious en-suite rooms featuring private verandahs - comprising 8 doubles/twins and 3 triples.
- 2 Family Suites (64m²): Generous family layouts consisting of two en-suite safari tents linked by a shared verandah.

The tents are strategically spaced to ensure maximum privacy, allowing cooling breezes and the distant calls of the conservancy to create a soulful backdrop to your stay.

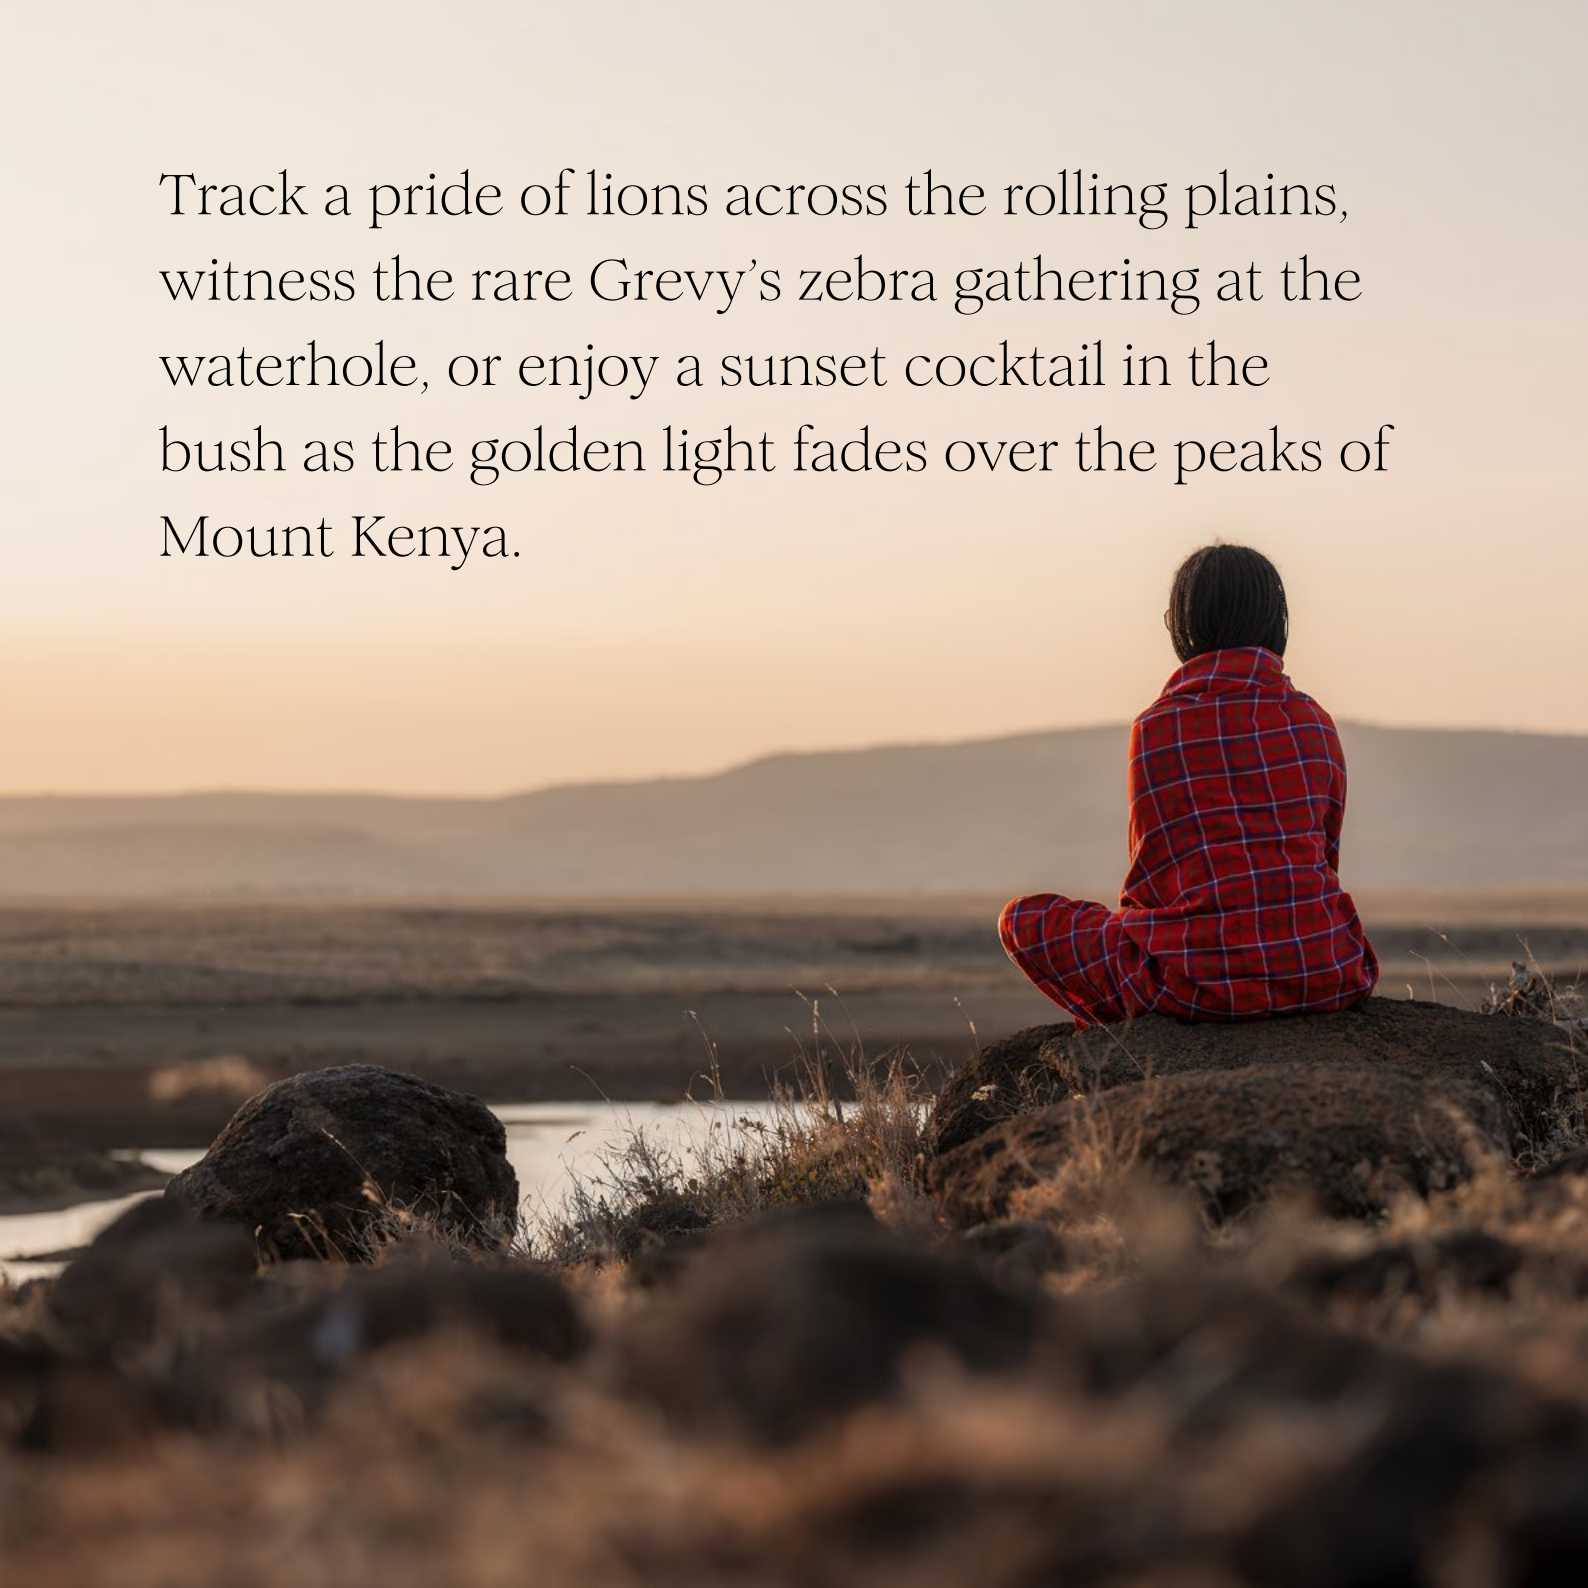

Lewa Safari Camp is an iconic sanctuary of authentic luxury, nestled in the heart of the pioneering Lewa Wildlife Conservancy. It is a place where the storied history of Kenyan conservation comes to life, offering an unparalleled perspective over a landscape defined by its thriving rhino populations and rare northern wildlife.

The result is food that feels recognisably Kenyan while celebrating the extraordinary breadth and diversity of African cuisine.
