

ANGAMA
SAFARI CAMP

A New Setting on the Oololo Escarpment

Angama Safari Camp has found a beautiful new home during Standard Season, tucked into a forested grove along the Escarpment where a stream runs softly past, filling the camp with the sounds of flowing water and birdsong.

Here, guests are surrounded by nature at its most serene — with each tent carefully placed to ensure privacy and the wilderness stretching right from the doorstep. From this site, walking safaris begin at camp, winding through woodlands alive with tracks and tales, while a wide, grassy riverbank offers the perfect stage for unforgettable private dining beneath the stars. Accessible by road from other camps in the Greater Maasai Mara.

Thanks to the Escarpment's lush groundcover, the rains won't affect your stay at all, the adventure is easier underfoot.

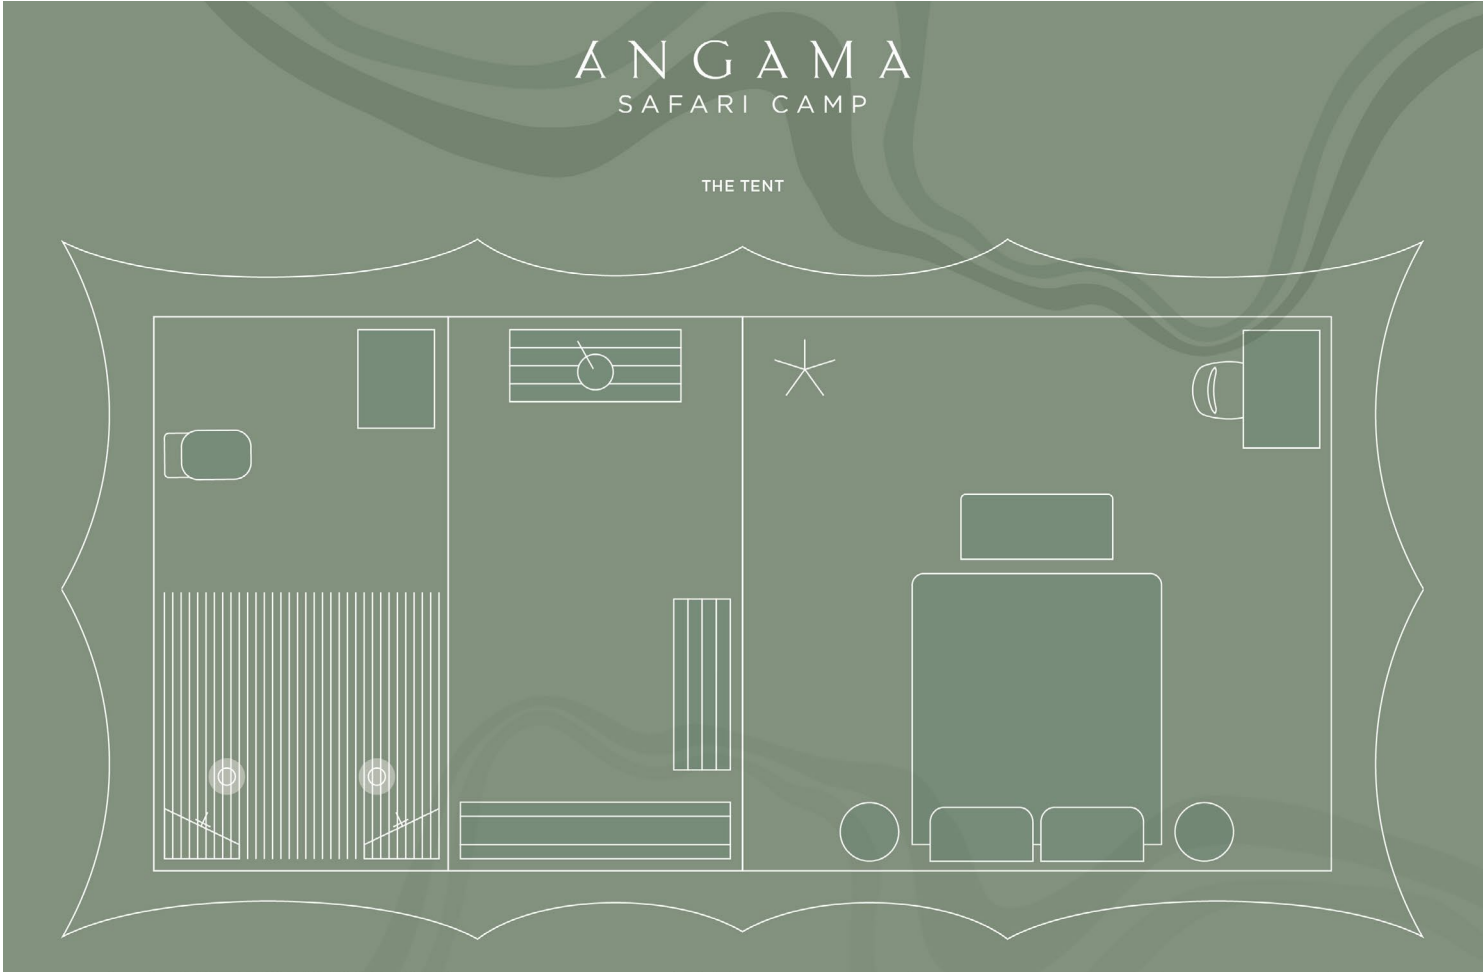

The camp is just minutes from Angama Mara Lodge — close enough to have the best of both: days spent poolside at the lodge, access to the Photographic Studio, Fitness Room, Beading Studio, Safari Shop and much-loved Shamba, and starlit nights back at Angama Safari Camp.

This balance of remoteness and reassurance makes the new site truly special: a place where the romance of sleeping amongst the wildlife of the Mara meets the thoughtful comforts Angama is known for.

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW:

- Accommodating up to eight guests in four en-suite Tents
- 13-member private staff — a Camp Host, Butler, Chef, two Guides — including two vehicles
- Safari days will be packed with adventure followed by peaceful evenings under the stars as you share stories and meals around the campfire

HOW TO GET HERE:

- Access is easy with a short 45-minute scheduled flight (depending on the routing) from Nairobi's Wilson Airport to the Mara, followed by a safari from the airfield to the specific site where Angama Safari Camp has been set up
- On average a 60-minute safari from the airfield to Camp, depending on game viewing enroute
- Excellent air access from Nairobi and the Serengeti (via Migori in Kenya and Tarime in Tanzania)
- Accessible by road from other camps in the Greater Maasai Mara
