LAKE MOKOBA
TENTED CAMP

Lake Mokoba Tented Camp is set along the perennial Gomoti River in the southern region of the Okavango Delta, overlooking a tranquil lake teeming with hippos and crocodiles. The camp takes its name from the Mokoba, the local term for the Knobthorn tree, a resilient acacia species that flourishes in this part of Botswana.

The area is known for its abundant wildlife and year-round safari experiences. Guests can enjoy bush walks, mokoro excursions, and boat cruises along the river throughout the year.
