

KICHAKANI CAMP

SERENGETI NATIONAL PARK

TANZANIA 10 CANVAS TENTS

Kichakani Camp is located in a secluded area of the Serengeti National Park, one of the most exciting places to watch the great migration.

SWALA CAMP

OVERVIEW

It's not just the wildebeest. We, too, are creatures of habit. Most of us tend to think of the Great Migration in terms of a single dramatic moment: the moment when a million or so innocent ungulates attempt to cross the Mara River and avoid being devoured by the lions, crocodiles and other photogenic predators that are hanging around licking their chops. But the Great Migration – as its name suggests – is a process, not a moment, one that continues in a year-round cycle. Kichakani Mobile Camp, which exists in two locations in different parts of the Serengeti National Park, allows guests to see two quite distinct moments in this cycle – the Mara River crossing being one of them, the no less extraordinary wildebeest calving season the other. All this from a tented camp cut on classic lines, redolent of the Golden Age of safari – though with a good many more up-to-date flourishes.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Unbeatable viewing of the great migration
- A classic tented camp with a more luxurious look and feel
- Boutique camp with just 10 luxury tents
- Sophisticated communal spaces
