MASAI MARA NATIONAL RESERVE

Little Elephant Pepper Camp introduces a more intimate interpretation of Elewana's much-loved Elephant Pepper experience in the Mara North Conservancy. Overlooking a natural mineral lick fed by a seasonal stream, the camp is positioned to quietly observe wildlife movement throughout the day, offering a sense of immersion without intrusion.

An Intimate Safari Sanctuary

Designed with a strong nod to classic safari heritage, the camp features just three spacious safari suites and one generous two-bedroom family suite, ensuring privacy, space, and a deeply personal experience. Interiors draw inspiration from traditional safari craftsmanship: campaign-style furniture, warm woods, brass detailing, soft linens, and a restrained, earthy palette that sits comfortably within the landscape.

Each suite includes a private plunge pool and generous verandas for outdoor living, while shared spaces remain intentionally understated. A relaxed guest lounge and dining area encourages unhurried moments, complemented by shaded hammocks for quiet reflection between game drives.

Key Highlights

Taste of elegant safari from years gone by

Although extremely comfortable with spacious tents, en suite bathrooms, gourmet food and elegant furnishings, the camp is very low key and 100% solar. The camp managers join guests at the dinner table and campfire, sharing their stories and knowledge of the bush, reminiscent of a bygone safari era.

Private Masai Mara

Mara North Conservancy (MNC) is a privately managed conservancy in the core of the Masai Mara. Game driving is restricted to those vehicles belonging to lodges within the Conservancy, so Little Elephant Pepper guests have this outstanding part of the Masai Mara, almost to themselves. Within Mara North Conservancy is Leopard Gorge, famed for being the home of several feline characters from BBC's Big Cat Diaries.

Children get back to nature

From fiercely contested croquet matches in the lazy afternoons, to walks identifying tracks, to learning to use a handmade bow and arrow - Little Elephant Pepper Camp offers good old-fashioned exploratory fun.

The Migration

Although tucked away in a private conservancy away from the crowds, guests to Little Elephant Pepper Camp still have access to the excitement of the Migration and its river crossings by spending a day in the reserve with a picnic lunch.

Activities

Game Drives

Set off after an early breakfast and stay out all day with a picnic lunch. Or split up your safari with a morning drive and lunch back at the camp followed by an afternoon drive. This is the big show. Abundant wildlife will delight and astound you, including the legendary big five.

Night Game Drive

Turn off the lights and take in the stars of the African sky. See the notorious Honey Badger, Bush Babies, and many other night-time roamers. Night drives are hosted by a guide and a Maasai tracker and takes approximately 1-2 hours.

Walking Safari

Experience the bush up close and personal. See elephants, smell the grass, and feel the soil beneath your feet. Walks are hosted by an armed guide and Maasai tracker, taking approximately 1-2 hours. You must be physically fit and children must be 16 or older.

Maasai Village Tour

The Maasai are semi-nomadic and pastoralists. A boma may consist of a family, headed by the husband and his wives and children, or many families forming a village. Our visit will give you a brief look at their world.

Sundowner Cocktails

Unwind at the end of a busy day with a cocktail while you gaze out at the drama and beauty of Africa. Red and orange skies turn to starry nights as another perfect day comes to a close.

Picnic
Breakfast / Lunch

Embark on a day of adventure in the Masai Mara, whether it's witnessing a mesmerising wildebeest crossing or exploring the wilderness. We've got you covered with a packed picnic breakfast and/or lunch to relish amidst the stunning bush landscape

Maasai Olympics

Our experienced guides love organising fun walks and traditional inspired activities for kids within the camp. As a memento of their adventure, children can take home their very own cast from the tracks they've discovered.

Community & Conservation

The Ololomei Primary School, just 45 mins away from Elephant Pepper Camp, has been a longstanding beneficiary of the camp's school support initiatives. As part of their school support initiatives, Elephant Pepper Camp regularly hosts students at the camp to showcase the different career opportunities available to the kids in the hospitality industry.

Elephant Pepper Camp and Land & Life run a scholarship program for high-achieving, disadvantaged secondary students from the area. Students in the program are provided with full or partial scholarships throughout the entirety of their secondary education.
