

Where Wilderness Returns To Life

!Khamab Kalahari Reserve is uniquely situated in South Africa's North West Province, one of the country's most remote and diverse regions. This vast, big-sky landscape offers a quiet sense of luxury through space, spanning 96 000 hectares of the renowned green Kalahari. The refined lodging is thoughtfully designed to complement the rugged terrain, paying homage to a rich cultural heritage grounded in a genuine sense of place and purpose.

!Khamab Kalahari Reserve offers three individually designed accommodation options, each with its own distinct character and appeal. Every lodge has been formed in response to the surrounding landscape and is operated with the utmost respect for the land and its limited resources.

With just 15 rooms across the reserve's expansive landscape !Khamab ensures a deeply private and exclusive experience for every guest, alongside a credible commitment to conservation, recognised by industry peers.
