

KINARA

Families at Kinara

Some of the most lasting memories of the Mara are made young: the first lion seen at dawn, the sound of hippos after dark, a footprint in the soil that tells a story. We welcome families who wish to share these moments together, and we take care to make each stay safe, unhurried and right for the children who join us.

Ages

Kinara is best suited to children aged six and above. As a camp set within the open wilderness of the Maasai Mara, our setting asks for a level of awareness that younger children may not yet have.

On occasion, we may be able to welcome a younger child by special arrangement. Where this is agreed, the parent or guardian will be asked to sign an indemnity form before or on arrival, and the child stays at the family's own risk. Children must be at least two years old to stay with us.

Living in the wild

Kinara is unfenced. Wildlife moves freely through camp, by day and by night. This is part of what makes a stay here so remarkable, and it is why we ask families to keep a few simple things in mind:

- Children under 17 should not walk around camp on their own, at any time of day.
- After dark, every guest is accompanied to and from their suite by a member of our team.
- Animals are never approached, fed or touched; however calm they may seem.
- The river and open water are not for swimming.
- In safari vehicles, everyone stays seated unless the guide says otherwise.

Our guides will share more on arrival, and we ask that their guidance is followed throughout your stay.

Time in the wild, shaped around your children

Rather than a fixed children's programme, our guides shape each day around the ages and interests of the young guests with us. This might include:

- A tracking treasure hunt, reading the signs left by animals overnight
- Nature spotting, from birds and insects to the smaller wonders of the plains
- Storytelling, sharing the tales and traditions of the Mara

At all times, safety comes first.

Meals and snacks

Children's meals and snacks can be adapted to their tastes and dietary needs. Simply let us know before you arrive, including any allergies or medical needs.

Supervision and accommodation

Children remain in the care of their parent or guardian throughout their stay, and babysitting is currently not available. Families are asked to meet our vehicle requirements.

A child may not occupy a suite alone and must always share with at least one adult over the age of 18.

Rates

- Children aged 6 to 17 receive the child rate when sharing a suite with two adults.
- Guests aged 18 and above are charged the adult rate.
