Jaci's Private Lodge

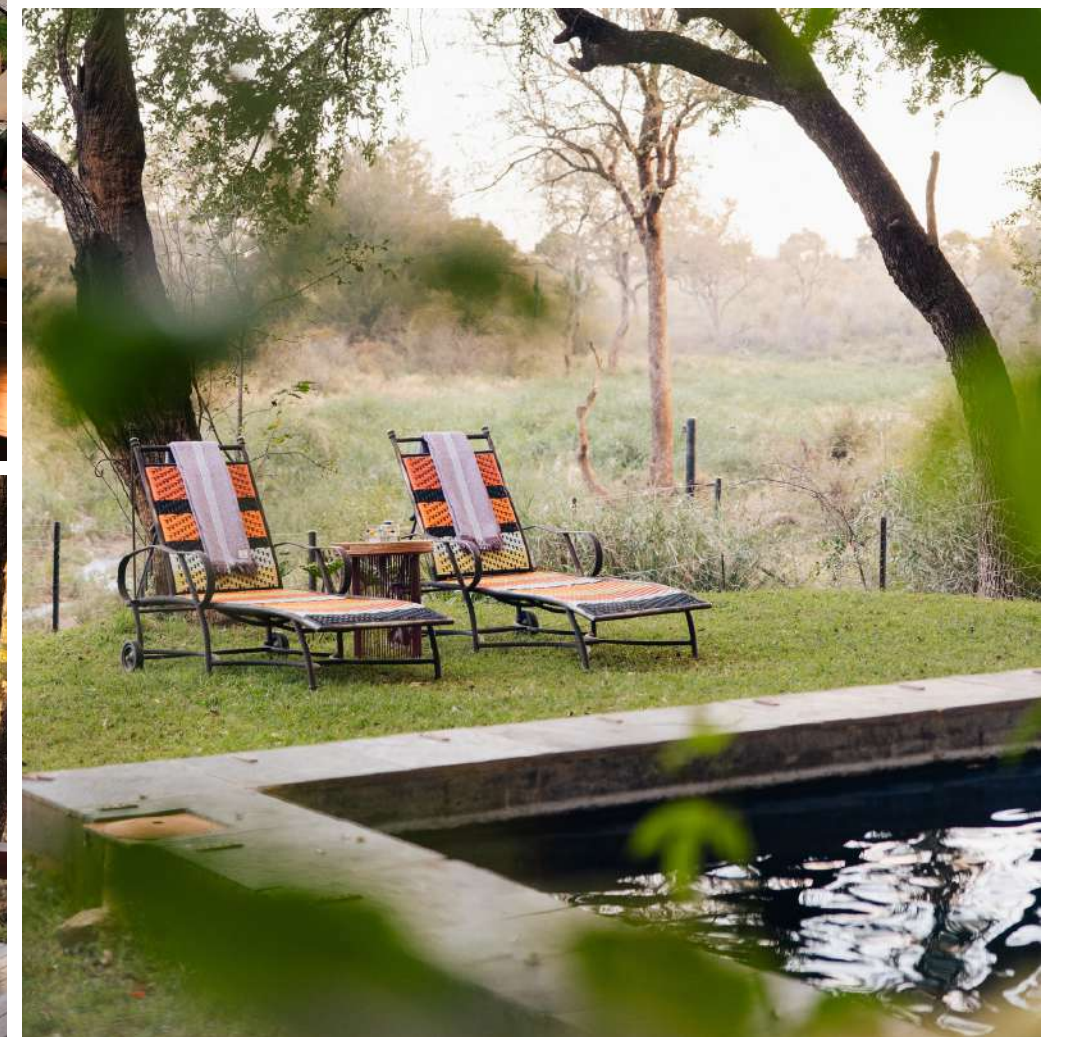

JACI'S
PRIVATE LODGE | MADIKWE

Overview

With room for everyone, Jaci's Madikwe House is our largest and most spacious exclusive-use safari villa, designed for families, multi-generational groups and friends seeking a fully private safari experience in Madikwe Game Reserve.

Accommodating up to ten guests across five en-suite bedrooms, the house combines generous shared spaces with private corners to retreat, relax and reconnect. Expansive indoor and outdoor living areas, floor-to-ceiling windows and sweeping 270-degree views into the reserve create a strong sense of openness and connection to the surrounding bush.

With a dedicated private guide, game vehicle, chef, host and hospitality team, every stay at Jaci's Madikwe House is shaped around your group. From sunrise game drives and relaxed poolside afternoons to wood-fired hot-tub evenings, pizza nights and dinners around the fire, this is safari entirely on your terms.

House Layout

Jaci's Madikwe House accommodates up to 10 guests across five en-suite bedrooms.

The main house includes a master bedroom and three guest bedrooms, while a separate cottage bedroom offers added privacy for grandparents, older children, couples travelling within a larger group, or guests who enjoy a little more independence.

The house includes a fully equipped kitchen, safari bar, dining room and lounge with fireplace, as well as the Pangolin Room workspace. Outdoor areas include a generous deck with dining and lounge spaces, a wood-fired hot tub, decked lounge with fire pit and pizza oven, plus a private plunge pool with loungers.

Private Safari Experience

A stay at Jaci's Madikwe House includes a private game vehicle and dedicated field guide.

Twice-daily private game drives are included, with sunrise and sunset stops forming part of the daily safari rhythm. Because the vehicle is exclusive to the house, each drive can be tailored to your group's interests, pace and needs wherever possible.

This flexibility makes Jaci's Madikwe House especially well suited to families with children, multi-generational groups, special-interest travellers and guests who prefer a more personalised safari experience.

Children of all ages are welcome and may join game drives in the house's private vehicle.

Your own Safari House

Jaci's Madikwe House is designed for meaningful time together.

The scale of the house allows groups to gather comfortably while still giving each guest space to unwind. Mornings may begin with coffee before a private game drive, afternoons can be spent beside the pool or on the deck, and evenings naturally gather around the fire, the pizza oven or the dining table.

Its 270-degree views into the reserve allow the safari experience to continue throughout the day, even between drives. Wildlife, birdsong, changing light and the quiet rhythm of the bush remain part of the house from sunrise to nightfall.

The Pangolin Room

The Pangolin Room offers a dedicated workspace within Jaci's Madikwe House.

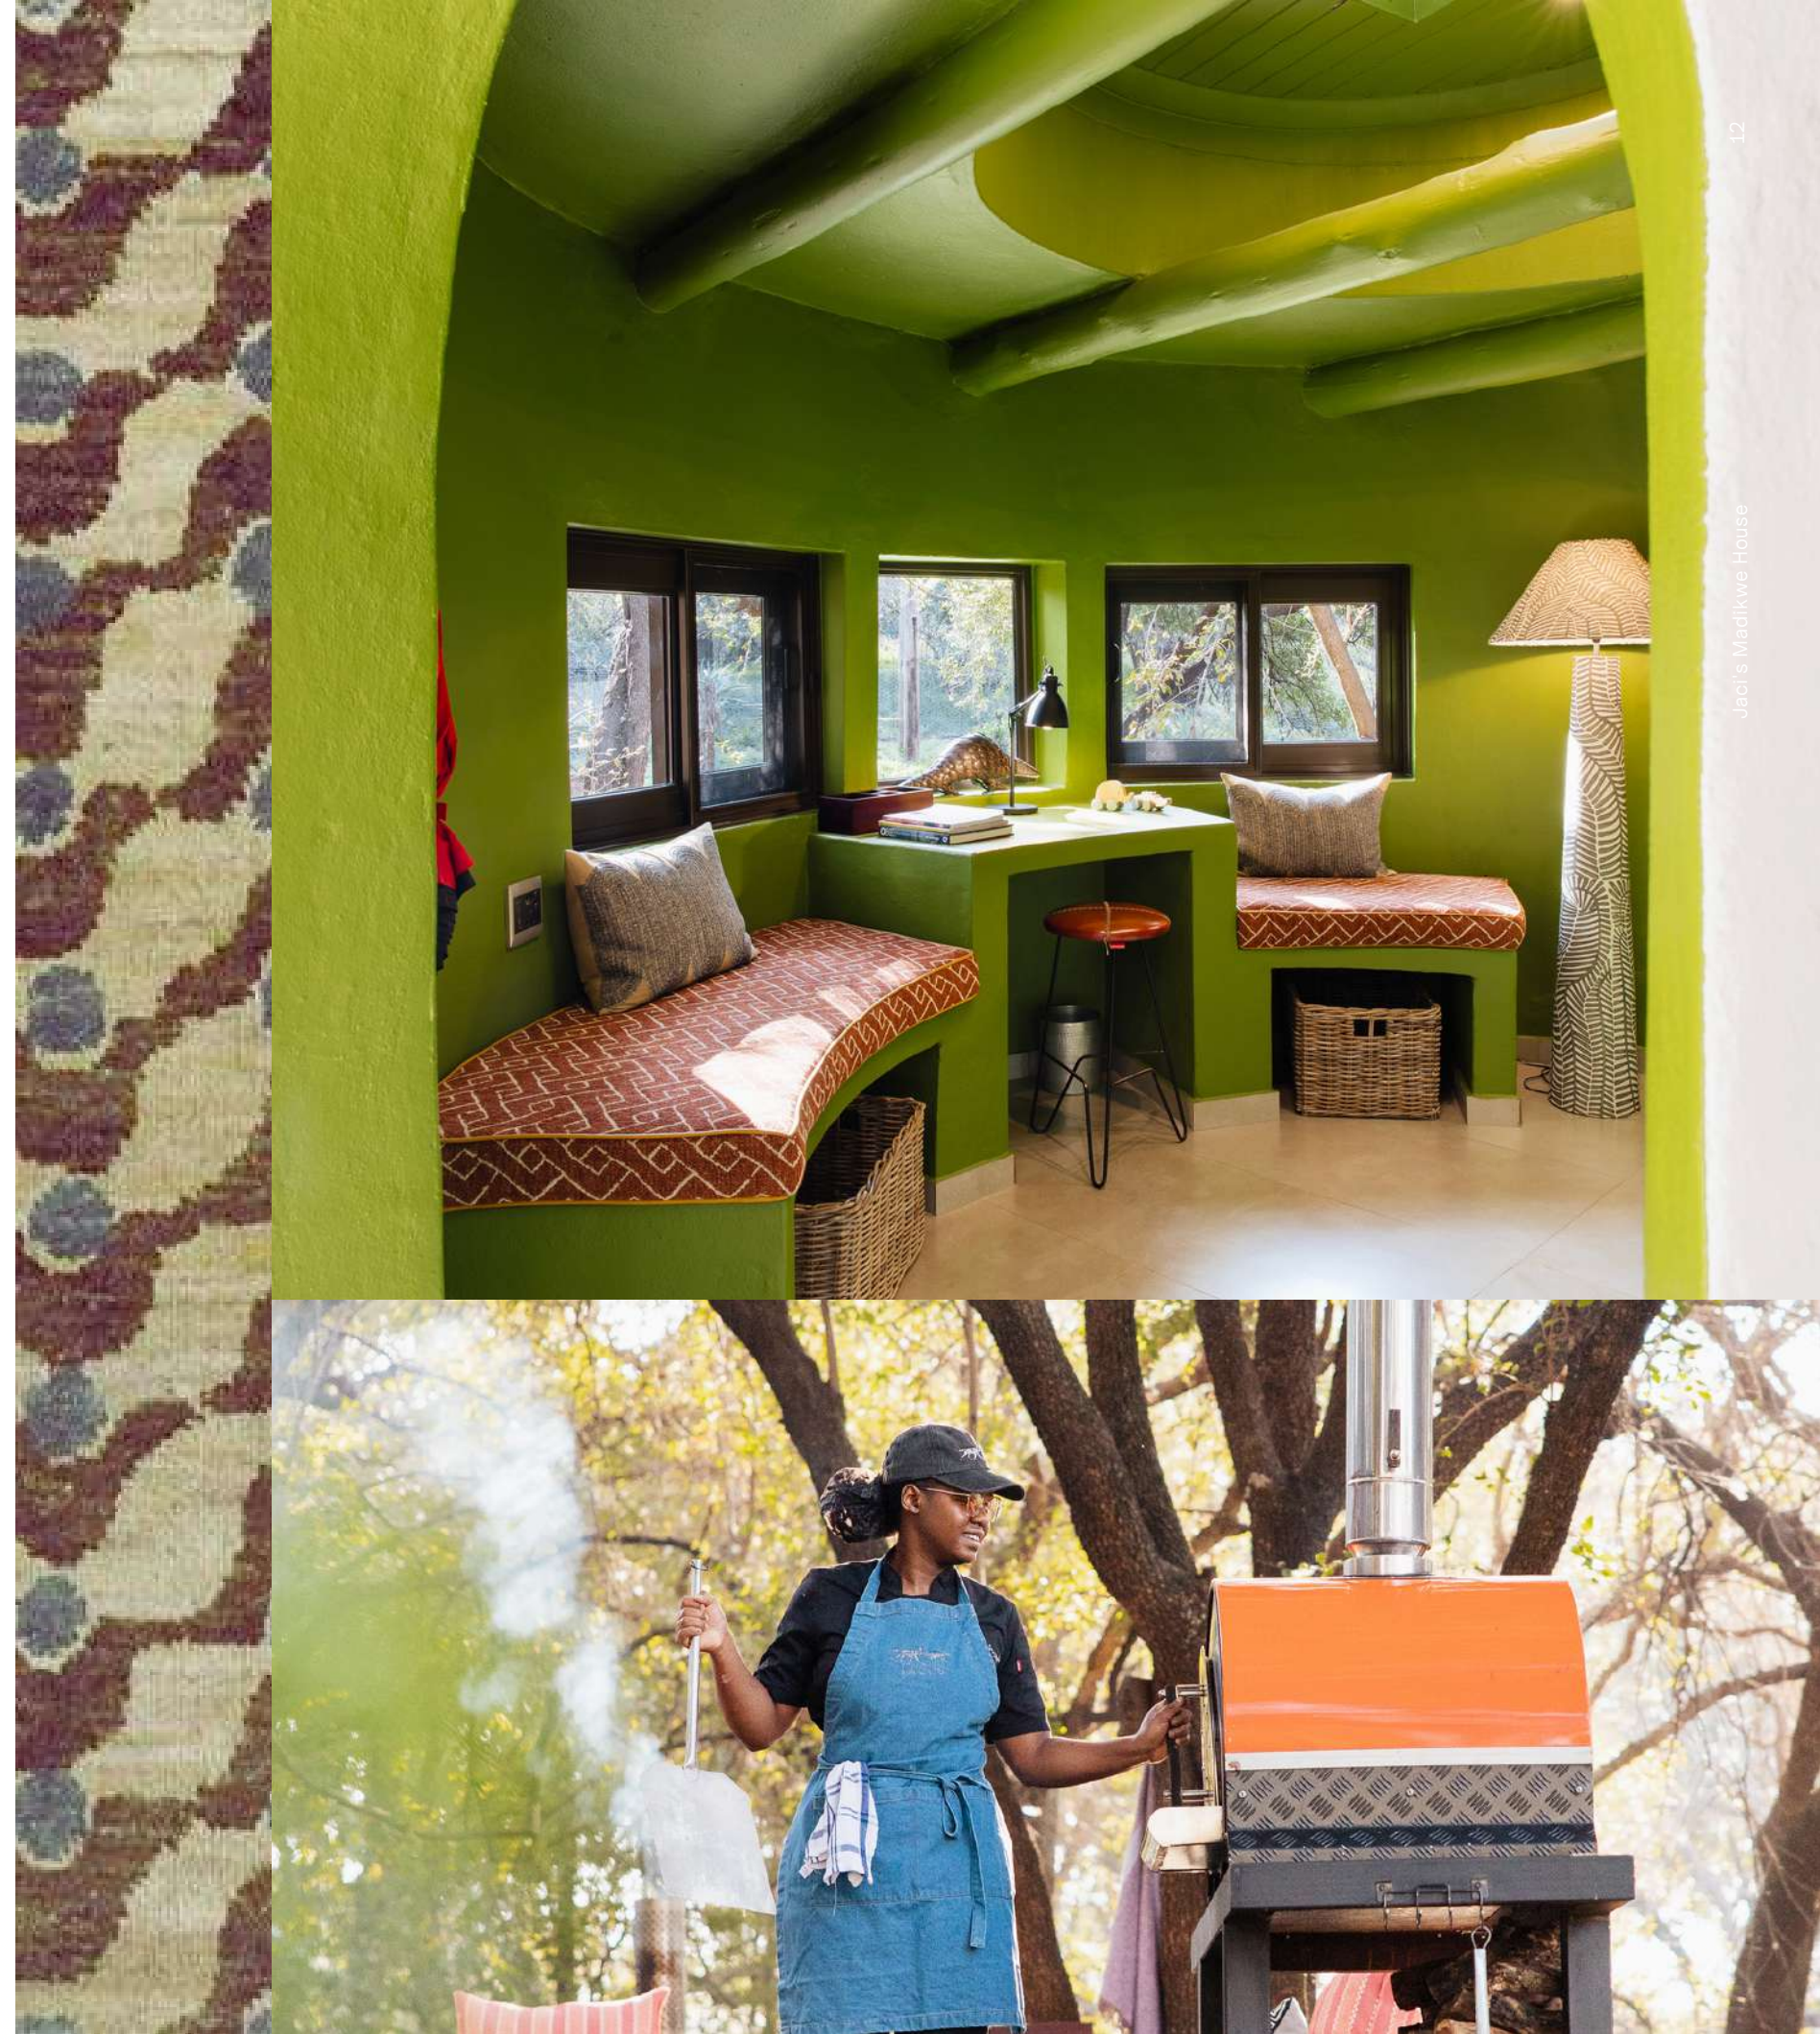

Ideal for guests who may need a quiet place to read, write, work or stay connected, this space adds practicality without taking away from the relaxed safari atmosphere. For longer stays, family travel or guests balancing remote work with time in the bush, it offers a useful private retreat within the house.

Private Hospitality

Jaci's Madikwe House includes a private hospitality team, including a dedicated chef and host.

Dining is generous, relaxed and shaped around your group. Meals can be arranged according to safari times, children's routines, special occasions or slow days spent at the house.

Guests may enjoy breakfast after a morning drive, long lunches on the deck, relaxed poolside snacks, fireside dinners, pizza evenings or celebratory meals prepared by the chef. The fully equipped kitchen and safari bar support the feeling of a private home, while the dedicated team ensures that every detail is taken care of.
