

SVALBARD

BOOT SIZING GUIDE

To ensure your feet stay warm, dry and comfortable during your Arctic expedition, good boots are essential. Rubber boots are required for all Svalbard boat expeditions, as the way in and out of the boats is often through the water - jetties are rare and are only available in the settlements. The boots you hire through us are well insulated and, thanks to a good tread, can also be used for hikes. They provide sufficient support and stability, and can be adjusted in size at the calf to fit your feet. It's best to book a size larger than you normally wear. That way there is still enough room for warm socks.
