Ponta Delgada

Set on the southwestern coast of the island of São Miguel, Ponta Delgada serves as the capital of the Azores. It is one of the most beautiful towns within the archipelago, featuring unique Portuguese architecture seen in the whitewashed buildings lining the narrow cobbled alleyways. There is a wonderful array of attractions to see in this stunning island capital. Visitors can stroll along the Avenida seaside promenade and soak up the coastal views; discover Carvao Cave, the largest lava tube on the island; and view the Church of St. Sebastian and the old Portas da Cidade, city gates built in the 18th century. It serves as an excellent base from which to explore the natural wonders of the island including the hot springs at Lagoa das Furnas, and the glistening Lagoa do Fogo.

Lisbon

The beautiful city of Lisbon lies draped across a string of seven hills on the western Iberian Peninsula and is the westernmost and oldest city in western Europe. Its long and tumultuous history has resulted in an aesthetic characterised by a haphazard combination of old and new; however, the aesthetic chaos of Lisbon only adds to its appeal and its undeniable charm. Bright yellow centenarian trams rattle their way up steep, tree-lined, cobbled streets; ornate ironwork balconies overrun with bougainvillea sit above elegant outdoor cafes housed in ancient whitewashed, red-roofed stone houses; and a flurry of detailed mosaics decorate the sidewalks. Ancient statues adorn grand squares and hidden gardens. A diverse culinary scene, a plethora of fascinating museums, and numerous castles make it easy to see why Lisbon is one of Europe's most misunderstood and underrated cities.

Cadiz

The seaside city of Cadiz is one of Spain's most ancient settlements, founded by the Phoenicians some 3000 years ago and subsequently conquered by a string of invaders, including the Romans, the Moors and the Spanish. These eclectic influences are reflected in its diverse archaeological and historical sites, which include the ruins of a 1st-century Roman theatre, the lofty and imposing Torre Tavira watchtower, and the gorgeous 'New' Cathedral (finished in 1838), with its dual cupola-topped towers. Modern-day Cadiz is a vibrant city, known for its flamenco dancing (which originated here), thriving live music scene and riotous annual festival, held in late February or early March.

Malaga

Resting on the exquisite Costa del Sol in the south of Spain, Malaga is a bustling port city known for its yellow-sand beaches lined with luxury high-rise hotels and resorts. For many visitors, Malaga is simply a gateway to the beach resorts of the Costa del Sol, but those who linger will find a cosmopolitan cultural hub complete with a thriving art scene, a slew of fascinating museums and an endless array of culinary delights. Presiding over the city's modern skyline are two enormous ancient hilltop citadels, the ruined Gibralfaro and the 11th-century Moorish palace of Alcazaba, which holds several ancient artefacts. Other must-see sights include an impressive Renaissance Cathedral, the beautiful remains of an old Roman theatre, and La Concepcion Botanical and Historical Garden, offering lovely panoramic views of the city below.

Palma

The city of Palma is situated on the Spanish island of Mallorca, where it is the largest city and serves as the capital of the Balearic Islands. This resort hub is a bustling commercial and cultural centre and one of Europe's most popular holiday destinations. While infused with modern-city glitz and glamour, it still retains much of its old charm in its historic centre - featuring beautiful architecture, narrow streets, and hidden courtyards. Don't miss the 14th-century Castell de Bellver showcasing classical sculptures and archaeological finds, and the massive 13th-century Santa María Cathedral, which overlooks Palma's crescent bay. Active types will delight in the numerous opportunities for hiking, snorkelling, kayaking, sailing, biking and scuba diving. Palma's bohemian allure, rich heritage, al fresco tapas bars, and enticing cafes and restaurants attract scores of visitors each year.

Barcelona

Set on Spain's gorgeous southeastern coast, the capital and largest city of the Catalonia region, Barcelona, is an exquisite, seaside metropolis. With its dizzying array of architecture and its world-class galleries and museums, artistic delights abound at every corner (most strikingly in the astonishingly whimsical structures designed by the prolific modernist architect Antoni Gaudi). Explore the winding alleys of the picturesque Gothic Quarter, take in the boisterous carnival atmosphere of the world famous, tree-lined La Rambla boulevard, or go on a gastronomical adventure through the city's restaurants. Head to one of the gorgeous white sandy beaches and when the sun sets, join the eclectic all-night party scene. Don't miss the opportunity to see the phenomenal Sagrada Familia, take in an opera at the sublime Palau de la Musica Catalana, and watch a game at the famous Camp Nou stadium.

Cannes

From its Mediterranean beaches and elegant palm-lined avenues to its sizzling nightlife and glittering annual film fest, Cannes is a quintessential Cote D'Azur destination - redolent of wealth, style and sophistication. Favourite activities include lounging on the golden sand beaches along the glamorous Boulevard de la Croisette, exploring the ancient alleyways of Le Suquet, the old quarter, with their luxury boutiques and gourmet stores stocking a dazzling array of delicacies, or visiting the high-tech, über-modern Palais des Festivals, which plays host to the highlight of the Cannes social calendar - the city's world-famous film festival.

Livorno

The attractive and heritage-rich port city of Livorno lies on the west coast of Tuscany, 20 kilometres from Pisa and a 2.25-hour plane trip from London. The city is home to an extraordinary array of historic attractions, including the impressive crumbling Fortezza Vecchia, a 16th-century fort close to the waterfront offering some superb views of the port. Many visitors use Livorno as a base from which to visit the famous leaning tower of Pisa, only 35 minutes' drive away. Nature enthusiasts and hikers should walk the Viale Italia coastal route, to see stunning views of the beaches, coves, headlands and the Tyrrhenian Sea, as well as the mighty castle at Cala del Leone. Make sure to spend a day on the canals of the Nuova Venice area, and a morning sampling the area's freshest culinary delights at the Mercato Centrale.

Civitavecchia

Situated just northwest of Rome, the charming coastal town of Civitavecchia rests on the scenic Lazio coastline. Dating back to the 2nd century, this picturesque port city boasts a rich cultural heritage and ancient history. Visitors can look forward to an array of attractions including the 16th-century Michelangelo Fort, the National Archaeological Museum, and the Terme Taurine, ancient ruins of a Roman thermal bath complex. Visit the centuries-old Roman Dock, soak up spectacular views over the Tyrrhenian Sea and stroll the streets of the well-preserved medieval centre dotted with several monuments and a collection archaeological treasures. Don't miss the must-see sights of Vanvitelli Fountain, Porta Livorno, the Ancient Rock and the Lazzaretto Dock.

Naples

Presided over by mighty Mount Vesuvius, with the remarkable archaeological site of Pompeii on its doorstep, the historical Mediterranean city of Naples has a long and fascinating history. Naples predates the Italian state and the Roman Republic by centuries, resulting in a virtually unrivalled bounty of Greek and Roman artefacts. Naples is unlike any other Italian city - it is huge, edgy, and disorderly, and yet this contemporary mayhem carries on against a backdrop of some of Italy's grandest and most impressive historical squares, world-class museums, and breathtaking Baroque masterpieces. As the birthplace of pizza and home to arguably the most sumptuous culinary scene in a country famous for its excellent food, Naples boasts numerous gastronomic establishments to thrill food lovers with all manner of tasty delights.

Messina

Separated from mainland Italy by the Strait of Messina, the historic town of the same name lies in northeast Sicily. Among numerous heritage buildings, the main attraction here is the enormous Astronomical Clock in the glorious Cathedral of Medina, arguably the biggest clock in the world. Along the staircase, visitors can watch the ingenious workings of the gears among dazzling bronze statues. For something a little different, take a 'Godfather Tour' to explore the incredible locations of the legendary film, which include the Bar Vitelli and the Trimarchi Palace. As a harbour city, Messina is home to several flourishing industries: those of wine, citrus fruits, and cruise ship services. In turn, these industries have created an ideal destination for travellers looking for a luxurious holiday along the Italian coast with an emphasis on wonderful culinary experiences.

Corfu

Located off Greece's northwest coast in the Ionian Sea, the cosmopolitan island of Corfu is among the most beautiful of all the Greek islands. It is most famous for its emerald mountains, sun-baked olive groves, and crystal-clear waters, which lap a rugged coastline. Explore the maze of narrow cobblestoned lanes in the Venetian old quarter; discover the picturesque cottages covered in wisteria, bougainvillea, jacaranda, and roses; and enjoy the many delightful beaches. Don't miss the opportunity to trace the steps of the famous author, Gerald Durrell, who spent a few years of his childhood exploring the beauty and wildlife of this enchanting island in his widely acclaimed book: My Family and Other Animals.

Kotor

Situated in the Bay of Kotor, the charming coastal town of Kotor is an ancient Mediterranean port characterised by ancient fortifications built during the Venetian period. The surrounding landscapes draw visitors from near and far, as they are well known for their spectacular beauty. The old town is the most famous part of Kotor, boasting a rich history, culture, and traditions where visitors can view the incredible medieval architecture in a number of monuments, including churches, monasteries, cathedrals and museums, explore the picturesque narrow streets, discover quaint squares and visit bustling markets. Other highlights include Trg od oruzja Square, the St. Tryphon Cathedral and the Square of the Arms.

Dubrovnik

Dubrovnik is a well-preserved historical city in southern Croatia, known for its distinctive 16th century Old Town, encircled with massive stone walls. After a disastrous earthquake in 1667, the medieval town was rebuilt by Baroque planners and the city's historic core seems to have been suspended in time ever since. Set-piece churches and public buildings blend seamlessly with green-shuttered stone houses, forming a perfect ensemble relatively untouched by the twenty-first century. Its impressive buildings range from the Baroque St. Blaise Church to the Renaissance Sponza Palace and the Gothic Rector's Palace, which is now a history museum. Add to this a few exquisitely manicured gardens and some panoramic views of the Adriatic, and it is not difficult to see why Dubrovnik has long been Croatia's most popular tourist destination.

Trieste

Trieste lies in Friuli-Venezia Giulia on the northeast coast in the corner of Italy. Somewhat surrounded by Slovenia, Trieste offers a unique mix of cultures (showcased by its architecture and historic sites), a beautiful seafront and port, as well as nearby vineyards to explore. Visit castles like San Giusto (built over two centuries from the late-1400s) and Castello Miramare, eight kilometres from town on the seafront; historic churches like the 14th-Century St. Justus Cathedral (named for Trieste's patron saint); archaeological ruins, including an ancient Roman Theatre; and caves like the famous Grotta Gigante. The large seafront of Piazza Unità d'Italia is flanked by 1800s architecture, and the cultural scene of Trieste boasts numerous theatres and museums. Finally, the town's long sandy beach is popular, as are wine-tasting trips in the countryside.

ITINERARY TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Please read the following terms and conditions carefully. You must not make any booking unless you are 18 years of age or older and understand and agree with the following terms and conditions.

These terms and conditions apply to bookings you make with a consultant (in store, over the phone or by email) as well as online bookings made via our website. These terms and conditions govern our relationship with you. Once we accept a booking from you on behalf of a Supplier, you will also have a separate contract with the Supplier, which will be governed by other terms and conditions. It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of those other terms and conditions.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Although you should read all of the terms and conditions, the following is a summary of the most important:

- Prices, including, in some cases, of confirmed bookings, may be subject to change.

- Some confirmed bookings are non-refundable if cancelled by you and it is your responsibility to check if this applies.
- We will be entitled to retain our service fees even if a booking is cancelled or does not proceed for any reason which is not our fault.
- It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of all information relevant to your travel plans, including but not limited to visa requirements and health precautions.
- We are not your agent, and may receive additional fees or other incentives from Suppliers.
- We are not liable for the accuracy of any published Supplier content including websites and brochures.

PRICES AND TAXES

All prices that we quote are in Australian Dollars and based on twin share accommodation unless otherwise stated. Please note that prices quoted are subject to change at the discretion of the Supplier prior to booking. Price changes may occur after booking because of matters outside our control which increase the cost of the Product. Such factors include adverse currency fluctuations, fuel surcharges, taxes and airfare increase. Please contact your consultant for up-to-date prices. Even if paid in full, a price may change because of matters outside our control.

Prices include all applicable taxes requiring payment prior to departure, and may be subject to adjustment in the event of an increase in those taxes. On other occasions, you may be liable for taxes in addition to the quoted price of the Product. For example, there may be a local tax charged at some airports or resorts.

PRODUCTS

All Products that we quote on are subject to availability and may be withdrawn or varied by the Supplier without notice.

FEES AND SURCHARGES

A variety of fees and surcharges may be payable to us, including booking or reservation fees, cancellation and amendment fees, credit card merchant fees, insurance claim processing fees or fees for ad-hoc services performed as required. You may see our current schedule of professional service fees at www.argyletravel.com.au/service-fees. Payment by credit card will incur a surcharge to offset our cost of acceptance of payment by credit card. The surcharge varies depending on credit card type, it is your responsibility to advise the correct credit card type to ensure that the appropriate surcharge is applied. We accept no responsibility for an inappropriate surcharge being applied if the correct card type has not been advised, and the surcharge applied shall not be refundable.

You authorise us to charge all monies payable by you in relation to any booking we make on your behalf or other services we have procured or provided to the credit card or debit card designated by you. If payment is not received from the card issuer or its agents for any reason, you agree to pay us all amounts due immediately on demand.

CHANGE AND CANCELLATION FEES

Be aware that some confirmed bookings are not refundable if cancelled, and also may not be transferable to another date or otherwise changed. Alternatively, a change may only be permissible subject to payment of an additional fee or charge. It is your responsibility to check if a booking is non-refundable or will incur charges for changing it before placing the booking.

Changes and cancellations of confirmed bookings may incur fees from Suppliers in addition to our service fees. Suppliers' fees are outlined in their relevant terms and conditions.

REFUNDS

Your entitlement to a refund for cancelled bookings is subject to the relevant Supplier's terms and conditions. If you are entitled to a refund then, subject to the Supplier's terms and conditions, we will arrange for it to be supplied to us on your behalf, unless we expressly agree with you otherwise.

If we are managing or arranging a refund for a cancelled booking on your behalf it will not be paid to you until the Supplier provides the refund to us, and we will not be liable for any delay on the part of the Supplier. Be aware that typically airlines will take between 60-90 days to process a refund.

Please note that if we are entitled to a service fee for placing a booking, we will remain entitled to this fee if you cancel the booking or the Supplier fails to provide you with the Product for any reason (other than our default), including in an event of Force Majeure. We will be entitled to deduct our service fee from any refund we receive on your behalf before remitting the balance to you.

DEPOSITS AND PAYMENTS

You will be required to pay a deposit (or deposits) when booking. The deposit amount varies depending on the Product booked and lead time to travel. In some instances, full payment is required at the time of booking and your consultant will advise the deposit amount at the time of booking. All deposits are non-refundable for changes of mind or cancellations by you (subject to your rights under the Australian Consumer Law). Where a deposit has been collected, final payment is required no later than six weeks prior to departure. Failure to make payment by the due date may result in your booking being cancelled and deposits forfeited.

Payments made by direct deposit may take up to three business days to process. If you are paying by this method, you will need to make the payment at least three business days prior to the actual due date. You must notify your consultant of your payment once it has been made.

Payments made by personal cheque (excluding bank cheques) require five business days to process. If you are paying by this method, you will need to make the payment at least five business days prior to the actual due date. You agree not to stop payment of the cheque even when you cancel a booking. You agree that we may apply the proceeds of the cheque to satisfy any liability you have to us or to a Supplier, including any liability in respect of cancellation fees, before refunding the balance to you.

INFORMATION

Our responsibility is solely to arrange a booking of a Product in accordance with your instructions. It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of all information that it is necessary or desirable to know in order to make optimum use of the Product and to undertake travel generally. We strongly recommend that you read our travel information at www.argyletravel.com.au/travel-information which may be relevant, especially in relation to passport and visa requirements. Please note that this information is provided as a guide only, and although it is accurate to the best of our knowledge, we do not warrant that it is completely up-to-date at all times. Further, we do not warrant that it is comprehensive and it may not address a topic that is relevant to your travel plans. It is your responsibility to further investigate and confirm any matters that are applicable to you.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

You must inform your consultant regarding any special requirements you may have for your travel arrangements such as special meal and seating requests; room type or disabled access prior to making a booking. If you do not specifically inform us, we will assume that you do not have any such requirements, and the booking will be made on that basis.

FREQUENT FLYER AND LOYALTY PROGRAMS

When booking with one of our consultants, it is your responsibility to let them know your frequent flyer membership details (or other applicable loyalty program details) for inclusion in your booking. Notwithstanding that your details may be included in the booking; we cannot guarantee that the Supplier will credit you with points for your booking.

TRAVEL DOCUMENTS

If you have booked with a consultant, it is your responsibility to collect all travel documents from us prior to travel. As a general rule, your travel documents will be available for collection two weeks prior to departure, however this will depend on your individual arrangements. Please contact your consultant to confirm when your travel documents are ready for collection. If you have booked online, you should print out and retain your travel documents as provided to you by the website (or in a confirmation email we send you). You must review your travel documents carefully and advise us immediately of any errors in names, dates or timings.

AGENCY

We act as an agent for and sell various travel related products as an agent on behalf of numerous transports, accommodation and other service providers, such as airlines, coach, rail and cruise line operators, as well as travel wholesalers ("Suppliers"). We may receive fees, commissions, gifts or financial incentives from Suppliers in respect of Products we advise you of or arrange on your behalf. Any brochures provided by us to you are supplied by Suppliers, or are prepared by us based on content supplied by Suppliers, and we accept no liability for errors in that material. Your oral or written instructions to us are authority for us to make travel bookings on your behalf and to arrange relevant contracts between you and the applicable Supplier. Notwithstanding this authority, we are not your agent and do not have any fiduciary duty to you. We exercise care in the selection of reputable Suppliers, but we are not ourselves a provider of travel services and have no control over, or liability for, the Products provided by the Suppliers, who are third parties. All bookings are made on your behalf subject to the terms and conditions, including conditions of carriage and limitations of liability, imposed by the Supplier. We recommend that you read them before finalising the transaction and we can provide you with copies of the relevant terms and conditions on request. Your legal rights and remedies in connection with the provision of Products are against the Supplier and, except to the extent a problem is directly and primarily caused by fault on our part, are not against us. Specifically, if for any reason (excluding fault on our part) any Supplier is unable to provide the Product for which you have contracted either at all, or to the requisite standard, your remedies are against that Supplier and not against us.

LIABILITY

To the extent permitted by law, we do not accept any liability in contract, tort or otherwise for any injury, damage, loss (including consequential loss), delay, additional expense or inconvenience caused directly or indirectly by the acts, omissions or default, whether negligent or otherwise, of third party providers over whom we have no direct control, an event of Force Majeure affecting you, us or a Supplier or any other event which is beyond our control or which is not preventable by reasonable diligence on our part. Under circumstances where our liability cannot be excluded and where liability may be lawfully limited, such liability is limited to the remedies required of us under applicable law (including the Australian Consumer Law). In particular, we disclaim any liability for any consequential loss, including loss of enjoyment or amenity. This liability clause is subject to your rights under the Australian Consumer Law and nothing in these terms and conditions is intended to limit any rights you may have under the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth).

Without limitation of the disclaimer of liability in the previous paragraph, any obligation we have to you will be suspended during the time and to the extent that we are prevented from, or delayed in, complying with that obligation by an event of Force Majeure. Your rights with respect to a confirmed booking affected by an event of Force Majeure will be subject to the terms and conditions of the relevant Supplier.

GOVERNING LAW

If any dispute arises between you and us, the laws applicable in South Australia will apply. You irrevocably and unconditionally submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of South Australia, and waive any right that you may have to object to an action being brought in those courts.
