

The landscape surrounding Arijju is a place of adventure, a conservation laboratory and a place infused with tribal lore. There are many ways to explore the region from the earth or from the air with local guides and experienced adventurers - here are a few of the owner's favourites.

DAILY GAME DRIVES ON BORANA - inclusive

There are drives each morning and evening in open-sided 4x4 vehicles that allow you to feel a part of the environment around you. You'll get an early wake-up call and coffee or tea brought to your room then meet your ranger and vehicle at the crest of the main path to the lodge and head out to catch the best morning light. Your guide's understanding of the wild will inspire you to keep scanning the landscape for sightings of cheetah, lion, elephant, rhino, buffalo and plains game. He'll also help you identify birds and their calls as well as read animal tracks and even the medicinal uses of Kenyan flora.

GAME DRIVES INTO LEWA CONSERVANCY

>Conservancy fees: 0-5years free, $58 for 6-16years, $105 adults
Explore the terrain beyond the Borana Conservancy into the neighbouring Lewa Wildlife Conservancy, where the shifting landscape brings further wildlife sightings and more adventures in the wild.

WALKING WITH RHINO RANGERS - inclusive

Walking in the wild is an extraordinary, emotive experience. You can walk with your guide or even arrange to meet with the rhino rangers who follow these extraordinary, endangered animals on foot, daily, to ensure their safety. In the right conditions you could even walk with the rhino rangers to observe black or white rhino in their natural habitat.

RUNNING IN THE WILD - inclusive

Arijju is one of the few places in the world where you can go trail running, hiking and walking in pristine African wilderness. For your safety a ranger and support vehicle will follow you as you run. There are three running routes loved by the owners, each varying in terrain, difficulty and length. You can also plan to go running with the armed rhino rangers on their training sessions. Please talk with management about the routes and runs that will best suit you.

YOGA RETREATS AT ARIJJU - from $300 per day

Pre-book a private yoga instructor to help you reach new levels of yogic fitness under the stars or salute the sun as it lifts above Mount Kenya and feel the unique, spiritual calm of the Kenyan bush from our elegant, open-sided yoga deck.

MOUNTAIN BIKING – inclusive

Explore the ranch on the rugged tracks and trails that mountain bikers love. Get a workout and see the vast herding plains game of Africa on your silent, subtle means of transport. With bikes and kit for all sizes this is something the whole family can enjoy.

HORSE RIDING with Riding Wild, Borana - from $80pp per ride

Three generations ago, horses were the only means of transport across this wildly romantic landscape. The Dyer family's love of riding began then and their horses make this one of the most intimate, visceral ways to experience wildlife. Novice riders and children can ride patent safety horses from Rose Dyer's quaint stables while experienced riders can pre-book rides on sure-footed polo ponies from Kisima Stables on the Mount Kenya moorlands or choose to ride from the Borana Stables. Trained for riding in the wild, these horses are fit, they know the land and can be trusted to give you an exceptional riding experience.

NGARE NDARE FOREST RESERVE - $40pp, $20 per child

Venture deep into the fastest growing indigenous forest in Kenya. Begin your day with a game drive seeking out wildlife to the edge of the Borana Conservancy then continue into the Ngare Ndare Forest Reserve. Later, hike into the valley and swim in the famous 'Blue Pools' and waterfalls then take a lush canopy walk along the suspension bridges that cling between the ancient trees.
